GENERAL ITALIAN RETREAT TOWARDS ELBASAN

Kami Mokra Mountains Cleared

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The Italian retreat towards Elbasan is now on a general scale all along the northern front, says Reuter's Special correspondent on the Yugoslav-Albanian frontier.

Snow and fog which caused a considerable reduction in aerial activity yesterday also assisted the Italians in their retirement.

Latest reports from the battle-front state that following a series of courageous and daring bayonet charges the Greeks have completely cleared the Kami Mokra mountains. Fighting at this point has been on a heavy scale during the past 48 hours.

On the north-west flank, Mussolini's men only succeeded in withdrawing after sustaining heavy casualties and losing much war material. Many prisoners are also reported to have been taken by the Greeks.

FIRE SEEN

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—According to an Athens telegram fires were observed yesterday at Santi Quaranta and Argirokastro.

It is believed the Italians were destroying their war material, especially the combustible part of it. The telegram adds that it is confirmed the value of material captured up to Dec. 5 by the Greek Army was estimated at one milliard Drachmai and includes 500 machine-guns.

PRESSURE ADMITTED

ROME, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Continued Greek pressure in Albania is admitted in today's Italian High Command communique which states: "In Albania, the enemy is employing forces taken from other fronts as well as continuing his pressure, especially on our left wing."

"Our troops counter-attacked and during the combat fighting of the troops of the Aetzo and Venezia divisions was beyond all praise. Italian Air Force attacked, with success, road communications and concentrations of enemy troops, both by bombing and machine-gunning. All the Italian machines returned."

BASE OCCUPIED

ATHENS, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The Greeks have occupied the Italian supply base and port of Santi Quaranta, says Reuter's Special correspondent in Greece.

SHIP'S OWN BARRAGE BALLOON

Shielded from dive-bombing attacks by its own barrage balloon, a merchantman makes its way up Channel in convoy. The picture is taken from an R.A.F. patrol ship. Nazi vertical swoops at speed on to vessels equipped in this way are an exceedingly risky proceeding.

SOUTH ATLANTIC ACTION FOUGHT AT LONG RANGE Heavily Armed German Raider Chased

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—An action in the South Atlantic between a British armed merchant cruiser and a disguised German raider is described in an Admiralty communique which says that H. M. S. CARNARVON CASTLE (Capt. H. N. M. Hardy, D. S. O., R. N.) was in action yesterday against a fast and heavily armed German raider disguised as a merchant ship.

Full details are not yet to hand, but from available reports, it is clear that the action was fought at long range as the enemy raider, which was a ship of considerable speed, did not accept closer action.

There was heavy firing on both sides during the engagement and a considerable amount of ammunition was expended as H. M. S. Carnarvon Castle gave chase to the enemy.

Today's War Summary

MARSHAL BADOGLIO, WHO SUCCEEDED MARSHAL DE BONO in Abyssinia in 1935, has been relieved, at his own request, of his office as Chief of the General Staff of the Italian Armed Forces. It is thought that he has been relieved of his post because he is not in sympathy with Mussolini's military ventures.

THE BRITISH AUXILIARY MERCHANT CRUISER, H.M.S. Carnarvon Castle, was in action with a heavily armed German raider in the South Atlantic, according to an Admiralty communique. The German vessel had greater speed but she refused to come close.

A BIG PRESS DEBATE REGARDING FINANCIAL HELP TO BRITAIN has been opened in Washington. One paper earnestly hopes that if Sir Frederick Phillips "has come on a credits mission his efforts will be crowned with immediate and substantial success." The general opinion seems to be that necessary financial help will be forthcoming before the urgent need for it arrives.

THE ITALIAN RETREAT TOWARDS ELBASAN IS NOW ON A GENERAL scale all along the northern front. It is almost certain that the Greeks have captured Santi Quaranta, although official confirmation is lacking. This success is part of a general advance which has taken place along the entire Albanian front.

MARSHAL BADOGLIO RELIEVED OF HIS COMMAND: REPORTED NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH MUSSOLINI'S MILITARY VENTURES

MARSHAL BADOGLIO, aged 69, Italy's most distinguished soldier, has been relieved, at his own request, of his office as Chief of the General Staff of the Italian Armed Forces, by a Royal Decree, states a Reuter message from Rome.

GENERAL CAVALLERO has been appointed as his successor.

Marshal Badoglio, who joined the artillery in 1890, has fought in every Italian war since and was one of the survivors of Adowa in 1896.

MARSHAL BADOGLIO

Effective Reply By Soviet

ANTI-COMMUNIST CLAUSE IN JAPAN TREATY

CHUNGKING, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The Chinese language Press in Chungking gave great prominence this morning to the Soviet declaration of policy towards China.

The action is interpreted as an effective reply to the anti-Communist clause in the treaty between Japan and the Wang Ching-wei regime.

The TAKUNGPAO stated editorially that the Japan-Soviet treaty is an important contribution to the cause of Chinese resistance.

"The Treaty," the editorial continued, "has resulted in increased assistance to China from the United States and Britain and also in the statement by the Soviet Union that the policy towards China remained unchanged."

"Japan clearly demonstrated her anti-Soviet policy while she is still attempting to explain that the clause in question is not directed against the Soviet Union," the editorial added.

"The Soviet Ambassador's declaration has proved Sino-Soviet friendship and has indicated clearly the future trend of developments in the Far East," the paper concluded.

BRITISH WIRELESS STATES THAT COMMENTING ON THE REPORT OF THE RESIGNATION OF MARSHAL BADOGLIO—it is pointed out this is what is really meant by being "relieved of command by own request"—military circles in London suggest that the Marshal's action may well have been prompted by reason of his disagreement with the military policy of the Fascist Government.

Marshal Badoglio, who could have crushed the March on Rome had the King given consent, replaced Marshal De Bono as Abyssinian Dictator in 1935, but it was generally believed that at the beginning Marshal Badoglio opposed the Abyssinian war. He subsequently became first Viceroy of Ethiopia and Duke of Addis Ababa.

The Italian Press, according to Reuter, commenting on the Marshal's resignation, gives prominence to the fact that Badoglio is now 69 years old and his successor is nine years younger.

However, it is thought that he has been relieved of his post because he is not in sympathy with Signor Mussolini's military venture.

ALBANIA DISASTER

Reuter's Diplomatic correspondent writes that news that Marshal Badoglio has "resigned" and has been succeeded by General Cavallero is an admission of the extent of Italian disaster in Albania.

His retirement is open to two interpretations.

Either he has been sacked as the scapegoat for failure of operations in Abyssinia for which the Fascist Party is apparently holding military leaders liable, or

Nightfall Raids On Britain

LONDON, Dec. 6 (SWS).—Enemy attacks on Britain began at nightfall but ceased shortly after midnight. At the time, were they of any importance, it is impossible to say. A very serious spot in the Italian camp, especially between the Army and Fascist organisation proper.

MAINTENANCE OF PEACE IN THE PACIFIC

Australia's Prime Object, Says Sir John Latham

Australia, as a country of the Pacific Ocean, has recognised the fact that she has special interests in the Pacific area and the prime objective of her policy in the Pacific today is the maintenance of peace in the area, stated SIR JOHN LATHAM, Australian Minister Designate to Japan, in an interview granted the Press yesterday.

Trade between Australia and Japan has in the past been very substantial, Sir John said, but has diminished lately for a number of reasons, the principal of these being Japan's more stringent economic policy since the

Hitler Trying To Make Up For Lost Time: 100 Days Since Fall Of Paris Has Made British Unconquerable

"Napoleon's hundred days led him to Waterloo. The hundred days that Herr Hitler waited since the fall of Paris last June has made Britain unconquerable and has created a spirit of determination that will never be broken," said MR. H. WICKHAM STEED when he spoke in the series World Affairs in London last night.

"Herr Hitler is now trying to make up for lost time. He has been bombing our cities indiscriminately and his U-boats and surface raiders have been hitting hard at our merchant ships. The Admiralty publishes figures week by week regarding these losses. They are now as catastrophic as in the last war but they are not negligible."

"I wish the Admiralty would publish figures of our ships that do reach these shores. These figures will open many eyes including the eyes of Hitler and in comparison with them the figures of our losses would be negligible."

Mr. Steed then referred to the nightly raids when the Royal Air Force was making on Hitler's submarine bases in Germany and France, the destruction of oil refineries and storage tanks, the smashing of his blast furnaces and the attacks on his supply ships and his invasion ports.

PUSH BATTLE

"Whether Hitler is sane or insane does not matter," continued Mr. Steed, "but it is not likely that even this will dissuade him from his policy. He will try to push the Battle of Britain before the winter is over. He will find that we shall meet climax for climax and shall end it by out-climaxing him for there is confidence here in the strength of our resources."

"Somebody who should have known better is alleged to have said recently that democracy is dead in Great Britain," declared Mr. Steed. "All of us here know that this is nonsense. There might be some truth in it if we are a people who had to wait for our Government to tell us what to do. But we have a free Government and a free House of Commons and some of us who used to mock at our Parliament should now be thankful that we have a Parliament who is telling the Government what the people are feeling and thinking."

CHINESE TO TURN OUT FULL SQUAD FOR TUSSLE AGAINST H.K. BASEBALL CLUB

CANUCKETTES WILL FIND BABY PANTHERS HARD NUT TO CRACK

BY R.O.Y.

ALTHOUGH LOP-SIDED MATCHES WILL BE THE ORDER OF THE DAY, FANS ARE EXPECTED TO TURN OUT IN FULL FORCE to see the Hongkong Baseballers tangle with the Chinese Baseballers at the Kowloon Football Club ground, tomorrow, in the last game of the programme, the Filipino Club-Recelo Aces fixture having been postponed.

For perhaps the first time this season, the Chinese Baseball Club will turn out their regular nine, of Tuffy Chinn and Nip Lum forming the battery, Tommy Chinn at the initial sack, Crooner Ruel of George White keeping guard over the keyhole, Deaham Gray at the Hot Corner, Wally Ching at the Windy Alley with Howard Lee, Willie Wilson and John Fisher patrolling the pastures, and should offer the Club plenty of opposition.

Chuck Waggoner will line-up, Edwards hurling to Morris, Ernie Hearther at first, Crews at the middle cushion, Lou Light at third, "Big Chief" Pete Fitch at short, with Hank Sperry, Bond and Larry Sells in the garden. Mentor Abe Liu will be in there hatching up the magic against the Baseballers so the Chinese lads should put an excellent showing despite the much-vaunted power of the Mohawk tribe.

The latter are highly fancied for pennant honours this season and will step lively to ensure that the Chinese Club don't put anything over on them.

LADIES' GAMES

The Ladies will, of course, start the day as usual, the Wildcats having a push-over against the Chung Hwa lassies who have been losing by record scores ever since the season started.

The Cardinals should not be troubled by the Little Flower Club in the second game, but the next game should provide good entertainment as the Baby Panthers have been showing sufficiently good form to give the Canuckettes a real tussle.

The latter barely managed to scrape through in their match against the Wahos last week to keep their undefeated record intact, and will again have to keep going all the way to take the Baby Panthers.

SAINTS FAVOURED

At 1.30 p.m., the Canadian Chinese boys, present cellar champs, look like taking another bad beating from St. Joseph's who are treading on the Mohawks' tail feathers for the leadership of the league.

Owing to volunteer duties both Recelo squads have had to postpone their matches, while, for the same reason, Liga Portuguesa have also been granted a postponement of their fixture with South China.

JUNIOR GAMES

The first of the second division matches will take place at 11.30 a.m., with the V.R.C. and Royal Engineers in opposition. The swimmers should take the points without difficulty although Welles.

CHARITY SOCCER MATCH

A soccer match, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the funds of the Hongkong Refugee and Social Welfare Council, will be played today between the Kwong Wah A.A. and the Hongkong Football Club at Boundary Street.

The match commences at 4 p.m. and is under the patronage of H.E. Major-General A. E. Gra- sett.

EASTERN V. SING TAO MATCH MAY NOT BE PLAYED TOMORROW

BY "PILAT"

Up to the time of writing it was not certain whether the "key" soccer match between EASTERN and SING TAO will take place tomorrow afternoon at Caroline Hill or not.

In anticipation of an "epic" struggle all tickets for the $1 uncovered stands have been sold out, while in the $1.50 seats very few were left for sale yesterday afternoon.

It is understood that Sing Tao made an application to the Football Association for postponement but permission was refused.

It was rumoured early yesterday that Sing Tao were willing to forfeit points to Eastern but it was learned later that Sing Tao will be taking the field though this could not be confirmed.

CHARITY MATCH

On the Boundary Street ground Kwong Wah will entertain Club who, I understand, have been left with about eight regular senior players owing to Volunteer Camp.

Kwong Wah, who is the home team, are donating the whole of the proceeds to the Hongkong Refugee and Social Welfare Council. The match will be played under the patronage of H. R. Major-General A. E. Gra- sett.

The champions, South China, will be at home to Royal Scots and should gather full points to further consolidate their position. The game between St. Joseph's and Kowloon has been postponed.

TEAMS

The following are some of the probable line-ups:

EASTERN:—Lau Hin-hon; Kong Sin-king, Wo Chi-sang; S. C. Liu, Rsi King-sing, Lo Wai-kuen; Chung Yung-sum, Cheung Kam-

SIX HANDICAP EVENTS FOR MACAO MEET

SPECIAL $1 SWEEP MAIN FEATURE

BY "LAST QUARTER"

The Macao Jockey Club are presenting a programme of six handicap events at their Decem-ber Race Meeting, to be held at the Arela Preta Course tomorrow afternoon commencing at 3 p.m.

The "Chung Shan" Handicap over one mile for "Y" Class China ponies of the Club will be the main feature of the day's racing and a special $1 Sweep, limited to 50,000 tickets, is being conducted on this particular race.

KIN SHAN HANDICAP

Black Diamond, having been demoted a section, should be the logical bet in this five furlong sprint especially in view of the fact that he is not carrying top weight. The Mermald should be close up since his last running was quite promising, while Sports Venture is another pony that is worth considering.

I like Cuban Love as an out-side bet as this grey is definitely a good sprinter.

KAU TUNG HANDICAP (FIRST SECTION)

Lancashire Chap should be very near winning this six furlong event, although Radium Star is useful over this same distance and will offer stern opposition. I feel, however, that Haddon is the pony that will need watching to prevent an upset in this race, as this black appears to like the Macao course much better than the local one at the Valley.

Ascot Vale should not be despised, and is quite capable of winning in this company, if taken out by a strong and experienced rider.

DECEMBER HANDICAP

Phoenix and King's Worthy are the ones to follow in this "D" Class race. The latter has been promoted from the "E" Class but

HEART OF THE NORTH

Outdoor action, thrills and suspense are the keynotes of the Warner Bros. Technicolor special "Heart of the North," which opens tomorrow at the Majestic Theatre.

It is a full bodied picture, combining all the elements that make for superb entertainment.

It has adventure, it has romance, it has thrills, it has humour, and it pictures with a loveliness the Technicolor camera has never surpassed the wild and little known country in which its action is laid.

Gloria Dickson and Gale Page vie so evenly for feminine honours that it is likely the individual spectator will be influenced in deciding which is the better actress only by his preference between blondes and brunettes.

"MARYLAND"

Current Attraction At King's Theatre

One of the finest combinations of talent ever assembled for one picture makes Darryl F. Zanuck's technicolour production of "Maryland," showing today at the King's Theatre, an entertainment event not to be missed.

Walter Brennan heads the impressive cast of "Maryland." Always a fine interpreter of character parts he scores even more solidly in his newest role. Fay Bainter has a role which should bring her new honours while Brenda Joyce and John Payne, two of the screen's newest shining lights, share the romantic honours.

The spectacle of flaming skies flashing against blue sky and green turf is one that every moviegoer will want to witness.

R.A.F. CARRY AIR WAR TO AXIS TERRITORY

Crippling Blows Dealt To Enemy Armament Work

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—R.A.F. bombers on Wednesday night made attacks on various objectives in the Dusseldorf area which fires and explosions resulted from the bombing, states the Air Ministry, which adds that another force of British aircraft selected targets at Turin and considerable damage was observed by the bomber crews.

Other targets attacked included cleared and visibility over Turin, the ports of Antwerp and Calais, and several enemy aerodromes as well as searchlight and anti-aircraft gun positions were included.

One British aircraft is missing from the operations over Italy but all other aircraft returned safely.

MAIN OBJECTIVES

The big Mannesmann Rohrenwerke armament works employing some 6,000 people, railway yards in the Dusseldorf district, quays and docks along the Rhine, and Dusseldorf coal-gas plants were the main objectives of the raids.

There was much cloud but the first arrival was lucky in finding a gap and more than a dozen fires followed his bursts of high explosives and incendiaries.

Aircraft continued to raid Dusseldorf at intervals for nearly 12 hours. One pilot says there were "15 to 20 good fires" in and around the Dusseldorf railway yards, and the flare of the fires striking up through the cloud banks told of the crippling damage.

TURIN RAID

The Royal Arsenal at Turin was the chief objective of the R.A.F. attacks on Italy, and much was done to reduce the Arsenal's output of guns, tanks and ammunition and other instruments of war, states the Air Ministry news service.

The British pilots flew through dense clouds until they reached the Alps, but the clouds suddenly

ANOMALIES OF EIRE'S NEUTRALITY

FALSITY OF POLICY IS STRESSED

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The fact that Eire depends on Britain for the main factors in her economic existence and that financially her interest clearly lies in a British victory were stressed by the periodical Bank which generally reflects the view of London financial circles.

It adds: "It is hoped, therefore, that a clearer realisation of the falsity of Eire's present position will bring a spontaneous change of attitude as a result of which Eire will cease to be an economic and strategic liability to the British Empire as she is at present."

"The fanatical idea that part of the British Isles should harbour German representatives during the life and death struggle between the British Empire and Germany is but one example of the dozens of anomalies to which Eire's neutrality gives rise."

"It is untenable that Eire's sovereignty depends, in the last resort, on the armed forces of the British Navy. Nor is it a question merely of monetary cost: the dead of the Jervis Bay gave up their lives to protect the Irish as well as English cargoes."

CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY

FIRST DISPATCHES FROM LONDON

CHUNGKING, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The Chinese Press this morning gave prominence to the first dispatches filed from London by the office of the Central News Agency which is the first foreign bureau established by an official Chinese agency.

Commenting on the opening of the bureau, the Chinese Ambassador to Britain, Mr. Quo Tai-chi, states that at a time of great international developments importance must be attached to the Central News Agency expansion into foreign news fields.

The first dispatches were devoted mainly to summaries of London Press comments indicating continued Soviet assistance to Chungking.

AUSTRALIAN POLITICS

CANBERRA, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—A crisis in the House of Representatives over the Commonwealth budget was averted yesterday when the Labour Party decided to accept the compromise submitted by the Government.

The decision followed a two weeks' dispute in which Labour threatened to defeat the Government on the floor of the House unless it included seven major points of the opposition policy.

Russia Reiterates Support For Chungking Government

MOSCOW, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The declaration just made to the Japanese Government by the Soviet Ambassador "that the policy of the Soviet Union towards China remains unchanged" is the first important statement on Sino-Soviet relations for four months.

The last such pronouncement was made by the Foreign Commissar, M. Molotov on Aug. 1 when he declared: "Regarding our relations with the great nation of China which is fighting for its existence, they are as ever good, neighbourly, and friendly in accordance with the Soviet-Chinese non-aggression pact."

While the statement made to Japan does not necessarily imply any setback to the recent efforts to normalise Soviet-Japanese relations, it does give the lie to many rumours by publicly reaffirming Soviet friendship for China as represented by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Government.

Nor does the statement lose in significance in that it is made in response to a notification by Tokyo that the anti-Communist article of agreement just concluded with the Nanking Government is not directed in any way against the U.S.S.R. and will not affect Japan's desire to adjust her relations with the Soviet.

The Red Star, the official organ of the Soviet Army, discussing the international situation, notes that both Britain and the United States reacted quickly to the announcement of agreement and, regarding the internal situation in Japan, it declares that Prince Konoye's political and economic measures are arousing resentment.

The Red Star adds, "The internal political situation is so hot that Army and Navy Ministers have had to demand the suppression of rumours and the activities of those who are trying to undermine the Government."

VEHEMENT REPLY TO MR. MAXTON

Major Attlee On Britain's Way Of Life

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Replying for the Government in the House of Commons debate, Mr. C. Attlee, Deputy Leader of the House, addressed his remarks to Mr. James Maxton who proposed an amendment to the speech from the Throne and covered the ground of his colleagues' arguments with all his accustomed vehemence.

Major Attlee declared that there was a fundamental fallacy throughout Mr. Maxton's speech; it was that there was the choice between a terrible war on the one hand, and all the beauties of peace on the other.

"I am not in a position to say when our war aims can be stated," continued Major Attlee, "but I can say that we are trying to establish the peace of all free peoples such as we civilised peoples understand it, which is not a peace in which everybody is subdued to the will of one man or of one nation."

ORDERED JUSTICE

"You must replace anarchy by ordered peace and you must base that ordered peace on ordered justice. We want to build a new world on the foundation of liberty—on giving the individual in every nation an opportunity to recognise to the full his or her personality."

"It is directly there that you come up against the Fascist idea that the individual is nothing. We believe you can broaden and expand the principles we have adopted here—not adopted, only but extended steadily to the British Commonwealth and throughout the British Empire—the extension of wider political, personal and economic liberties."

OUR WAY OF LIFE

"In conclusion," said Major Attlee, "we cannot lay down the law to the rest of the world and we do not wish to do so. We can only say: here is our way of life."

The speaker set down some of the warmest Ministerial cheers heard for some time past.

The amendment of the Independent Labour Party, moved by Mr. Maxton, was defeated by 341 votes to four and the Address was adopted.

2,000 pounds chloroform, 5,000 pounds surgical gauze, 40,000 pounds absorbent cotton.

15 RAIDERS "DOWNED" OVER ENGLAND

Coast Towns Shaken By Artillery Duel

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Formations of Messerschmitts which crossed the south-east coast of England yesterday were scattered in all directions by Spitfires which chased them right across the Channel.

Bombs were dropped on one town but did no serious damage. An unsuccessful attempt was also made to bomb some small ships in the Channel but the ships replied so effectively that the raiders were driven off.

In the evening heavy gunfire shook Channel coast towns as British and German long-range guns fought a violent artillery duel across the Straits of Dover.

The cannonading was continuing with unabated force after it had been in progress for an hour.

ENEMY LOSSES

The number of enemy aircraft destroyed off the British coast yesterday has now increased to 15, including one enemy bomber shot down off the south-west coast.

The remainder were destroyed in combats in the south-east, states an Air Ministry communiqué.

Two British aircraft were lost, but one pilot is safe.

One squadron of Spitfires shot down eight Messerschmitt 109's off the Kent coast without loss to themselves.

A Polish flying officer has shot down his second machine in five days.

MINE WARFARE UNABATED

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Four British trawlers and one drifter were recently lost through damage sustained by minesweeping.

The Admiralty communiqué alludes to the fact that the German High Command lays continual stress upon the mining of British ports.

These ports and their approaches, states the communiqué, are kept clear of mines from day to day by the tenacity and courage of British minesweeping forces.

The enemy is using all manner of devices to prevent or hinder the sweeping of these mines. Although the success of these devices has been limited and is likely to decrease, they impose losses like those mentioned above, upon our forces.

THAI URGED TO DEFER DEMANDS

CHUNGKING, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—

In a leading article on the fighting between Thailand and Indo-China, the influential Chinese daily Takungpao yesterday urged Thailand to cease operations and defer territorial demands until world peace is established.

Fighting between the two countries will only facilitate the Japanese plan, the paper asserts.

The trawlers lost are the Ethel Taylor, Amethyst, Elk, Colverton and the drifter Christmas Rose. There were no casualties among the Amethyst and Elk crews.

SAIONJI LAID TO REST

TOKYO, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Amid the booming of a 19-gun salute, Japan's famous veteran statesman, Prince Saionji, was laid to rest yesterday.

Business in Tokyo was completely at a standstill as Government offices, banks, department stores, theatres and cafes closed down as a mark of respect.

The cortege wound its way to Hibiya Park where the final rites took place. The streets were lined on one side by uniformed girl and boy students and on the other by troops of blue jackets.

AFRICAN WAR COMMUNIQUE

Enemy Store Dumps Bombed By R.A.F.

CAIRO, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—A British patrol successfully engaged a large enemy working party in the Kassala sector inflicting a number of casualties.

This further success in Sudan was recorded in yesterday's G.H.Q. communiqué which also states that in the area west of Gallabat, British artillery was again active.

No change has occurred on other fronts.

AIR OPERATIONS

In the Western Desert, Eladim, Sollum and Sidi Barrani were bombed on the night of Dec. 3, states an Air Ministry news bulletin.

Aircraft of the Rhodesian Squadron has successfully raided enemy dumps on the road east of Chelga. The dumps were burnt out.

STATION WRECKED

A direct hit completely wrecked the railway station building at Adarte while goods trucks on the sidings and a group of huts near that station were also badly damaged.

One of our reconnaissance aircraft failed to return but with this exception all these operations were carried out without loss.

ROYAL VISIT TO SOUTHAMPTON

Enthusiastic Cheers Accorded King

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—King George yesterday saw what Nazi bombers had done to Southampton, and standing by one of the bombed civic centres he chatted with air-raid wardens when the air-raid alarm sounded and a single Nazi spotting plane was seen flying high while bursts of anti-aircraft shells appeared around.

The King went on to Portsmouth where again there was an air-raid alarm during the Royal visit. He saw some who brought over the recently acquired American destroyer.

Hundreds of sailors and workmen cheered as His Majesty walked through the dockyards.

New Zealand Assures

WELLINGTON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—"New Zealand is with you to the last penny of our wealth, the last inch of our property and the last drop of our blood."

The New Zealand Prime Minister, Mr. Peter Fraser, gave this assurance to the British people at a State luncheon marking the approaching end of Viscount Galway's term of office as Governor General.

Mr. Fraser said that Viscount Galway would take back to the King and people of Britain New Zealand's admiration and gratitude at their fight for themselves and the peoples of the Dominions.

"From Buckingham Palace to the slums of Wellington the common danger is realised, and the common determination is to carry on to victory," concluded Mr. Fraser.

MERCY CARGO OF FOOD & MEDICINE FOR CHINA SHIPPED BY RED CROSS

A mercy cargo including five hundred tons of rice and cracked wheat, 1,000,000 sulfanilamide tablets and large quantities of other medical supplies is on the high seas, destined for the relief of wounded and famine-stricken Chinese, according to information received by the Philippine Red Cross from the American Red Cross headquarters in Washington. Reports the Manila Bulletin.

The rice and cracked wheat were shipped from Seattle, destined for Shanghai. An American Red Cross advisory committee in China will arrange distribution to needy Chinese.

MEDICINE AND CLOTH

A quantity of medicines and cloth were shipped from New York on the s.s. Washington, which arrived the other day in Shanghai. Additional supplies have been sent aboard the s.s. Express destined for Ramoong. Transportation will be over the Burma road to free China, where distribution will be by an American Red Cross committee of which American Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson is honorary chairman and Major Arthur Bassett is chairman.

Three representatives of the American Red Cross are now in China to supervise the handling of the Red Cross supplies. They are Dr. John E. Baker, Walter Westcott and Arthur M. Fisher. They passed through Manila by express a few weeks ago, proceeding to Kunming via the Burma Road.

Plans for the Chinese relief measures were worked out over a period of several months between American residents in China, who compose the Red Cross committee, Chinese health officials, and the Chinese Red Cross.

PRIMARY NEEDS

The primary needs in free China are for medicines for the sick and wounded and cloth for garments for Chinese civilians; food supplies are said to be adequate at this time. Famine, however, is widespread in occupied China, and foodstuffs are needed, the Red Cross was informed.

The Red Cross has purchased 15,000,000 tablets of quinine in Java, Dutch East Indies, for delivery in Ramoong Dec. 15. Other medicines recently shipped from New York include: 20,000,000 tablets aspirin; 1,000,000 tablets sulfanilamide; 20,000 pounds of dum bicarbonate; 47,000 pounds boric acid; 8,500 pounds ether;

CHINESE WOMAN, CHILD PERISH IN FIRE IN SHANGHAI

One Chinese woman and a child were burned to death when flames broke out in a celluloid factory in Shanghai at the corner of Penang and Ferry Roads shortly after midnight on Nov. 28, while another woman and child were badly hurt in their attempt to escape from the fire. Material damage included four Chinese peasant huts and ten wooden sheds.

The fire started at the factory at 12.28 a.m. and spread fast to the adjoining structures. Three machines from the Ichang Road fire station were sent out to combat the flames and it took the firemen 23 minutes to bring the conflagration under control. The firefighters, however, remained there for almost two hours, until the flames were completely extinguished.

Due to the fact that the fire started in the night, when all the occupants were already asleep, the firemen found it extremely difficult to save the two victims. Their hut was situated right next to the celluloid factory and was already ablaze when the firemen arrived on the scene.

The injured woman and child, were taken to the Shou Ming Hospital, where their condition was pronounced to be serious.

Utter confusion reigned in the Shanghai Rice Market in Foochow Road on Nov. 30 when the price of the first grade native rice reached the all-time record of $100 a picul.

The market had to be closed earlier in the morning and Chinese circles feared that prices of other commodities might follow that of the rice.

The Chinese press has been strongly urging the authorities to take immediate steps to cope with the rice situation. Executives of the Shanghai Rice and Bean Merchants Association were expected to hold a meeting on Dec. 1 to discuss the serious situation, states the North China Daily News.

"DOUBLE-CROSS" PACT

THE INTERPRETATION of the effectiveness of the Axis Three-Power Pact, which, when Japan signed on the dotted line, the Nazis loudly proclaimed would render a German victory certain, appears to be becoming more and more confused. Indeed, so far as the junior members of the alliance are concerned, doubts have begun to materialise into the strong conviction that Italy, Japan and the other slave adherents—Hungary, Rumania and Slovakia—have placed themselves in a perfect position for a neat bit of double-crossing (or the proverbial goats) by Herr Hitler. In other words, the worthless nature of this document is steadily being exposed by the trend of current events and the attitude of aloofness which Germany has so far adopted. The main purport of the pact was to provide that each signatory should go to the assistance of the other if either of them was attacked, or, as the wording would have it, "becomes the victim of aggression." A brief review of the developments in the international situation during the last few weeks will show how the pact has failed in its initial purpose.

WHEN ITALY attacked Greece, either with or without Herr Hitler's consent, the world outside the totalitarian bloc immediately classed the act as unqualified aggression. The usual methods for leading up to this crisis by falsely accusing the Greeks of persecution against Italian and Albanian minorities were employed and charges of aggression were indignantly denied. The failure of the Italian campaign has now cast the entire question in a new mould. With the Greeks pursuing the Italians across the Albanian border and well into Albanian territory, Italy is looking pleadingly to Herr Hitler for help against what the Totalitarians should regard as Greek aggression! Germany should in such circumstances rush to the help of her Axis ally. Herr Hitler is skillfully evading the issue by taking up the stand that Greek aggression has yet to be proved, when the truth is that he is afraid to take the risk of helping an ally who is in such grave difficulties because he realises what would be the consequences of failure to extricate Italy from her present predicament.

THE SAME circumstances have arisen in the Far East, where the aggressor of the Orient is faced with having to make a "strategic" retreat from China. Japan's difficulties should now have made her, in the sight of the Axis partners, a victim of Chinese aggression, but once again Herr Hitler overrules the purpose of the pact on the ground that the "assistance" clause cannot be applied here because the pact was only designed to operate in cases of future aggression and that Japan's war with China has been going on for a long time! There is no doubt that Herr

CHINESE DOCTORS' PROTEST

NO SETTLEMENT REACHED

Representatives of the Hongkong Chinese Medical Association, headed by Dr. Edward W. J. Sun (President), were received by the Director of Medical Services, Hon. Dr. Selwyn-Clarke, yesterday afternoon when the protest of the Association against the Government's ruling that certificates of cholera inoculation issued by Chinese medics will not be recognised, was discussed.

The Hongkong Daily Press learned from a most reliable source that no settlement was arrived at, and that a further meeting between the Hon. D.M.S. and the Association will be held after the Association had an opportunity to discuss the proposals of Government.

HEALTH RETURNS

The following is the return of notifiable diseases notified as having occurred in the Colony during the 24 hours ended at midnight on Dec. 5:—Diphtheria, one case; Enteric Fever, one case; Measles, two cases; Dysentery, eight cases; Tuberculosis, 20 cases.

Hitler would like, to help Japan in order to free the Japanese to create difficulties for Britain in the Orient. The complications which will result with considerable risk for himself, however, compel him to stand aloof again, for he dare not take the chance of antagonising the Soviet, which has reaffirmed its intention to continue aid for China.

THE LOOPHOLES which Herr Hitler has provided for himself in this so-called power-pact are now evident—the escape clause which makes it easy for him to go back on his (doubtful) word, as he has done so often. It makes it possible for him now, if he finds that any of his partners are of no use in helping him to win his war, to leave them to their fate and to explore the very limited horizon now left to him for more active assistance.

This fact is now dawning on both Italy and Japan. Only two days ago, a prominent Japanese in London, Viscount Kano, gave an expression to this view. Whether he was acting on instructions to find out what would be the reaction to such a statement, it is not possible to say, but what is clear is that the worthlessness of German friendship is slowly being recognised by those who have been foolish enough to accept Herr Hitler's word. The Three-Power Pact is nothing more than a subtle double-cross.

Construction Work Being Expedited

The concrete A.R.P. pens that have recently been erected on a site next to the Wanchai Market are to be adapted for use as market stalls as well as shelters. It was revealed yesterday by the Director of Air Raid Precautions, Wing-Commander A. H. S. Steele-Perkins.

No constructional strength was lost, and further pens in congested areas would be built on similar lines, the Director of A.R.P. said. Tunnelling work and the erection of concrete pens was being pushed ahead at a good pace and another tunnel is to be opened up at the base of Kennedy Road near the Infectious Diseases Hospital this month.

A further site is being considered at Hospital Road, while work has been commenced on a new tunnel at Whitfield Barracks, Kowloon.

Questioned about the apparent lack of shelters in some districts, Wing-Comdr. Steele-Perkins said that the A.R.P. Department were first concentrating on the congested areas.

EXHIBITION TOUR

Two or three halls will be used for the purpose of public lectures and a fleet of some six lorries, with wardens in charge, will tour the streets in connection with the lighting exhibition to be held in the first or second week of January, the Director of A.R.P. also revealed. Wardens will demonstrate to the public methods of blacking out effectively.

NAZI SUBMARINE MENACE: NO CAUSE FOR UNDUE PESSIMISM, SAYS M.P.

"It is true that the concentrated Nazi attack on our communications and production is serious, but we have no occasion to be unduly depressed over our losses," said Mr. Vernon Bartlett, the well-known journalist and Member of Parliament, when he spoke in London yesterday.

Mr. Bartlett prefaced this remark with a reference to photographs he had seen of merchant seamen arriving in America after having been picked up by rescue ships as a result of their vessels having been torpedoed.

"Any British sailor who arrives in America in these circumstances will arouse sympathy," said Mr. Bartlett, "but it also makes a number of Americans shake their heads and say 'Hitler is too strong.' As a matter of fact, Mr. Churchill is pursuing this question of dealing with German submarines.

FORMIDABLE MENACE "The mercantile marine," went on Mr. Bartlett, "has always been maintained at a high level, and for the first time we are beginning to draw on our reserves. The co-operation that is going on between German aircraft and their submarines makes this menace formidable and it has to be remembered that the Germans can operate from bases all along the coast of France and that we cannot operate from bases along the coast of Eire.

"We must not also forget the fact that Germany has many more bombers than we have got and can reach our centres of production, which are in some cases closer to them than our factories. It is, therefore, easier for the Germans to interfere with our production than it is for us to interfere with theirs.

"Indeed, if Herr Hitler had concentrated from the very beginning on our centres of production, instead of trying to break the spirit of London, we would have been in a serious position.

Mr. Bartlett declared that there seemed to be a wave of pessimism sweeping over the United States and even over the British Commonwealth. It was the same, he said, during Dunkirk and he reminded his listeners that Dunkirk had become an epic.

FRANK SPEAKING "Let me speak quite frankly," said Mr. Bartlett. "Now we are gloomy once more, but do you imagine that this new obstacle is getting us down? If so, you are definitely wrong. So it is only right to say to yourself 'we are proud that England is doing so well.' I know there are a great many people overseas who are saying that they would fight like we are doing if the threat was directed against them instead of us—and, therefore, we are not unduly depressed.

"There are reasons for this—the first is that there is now the prospect of our taking a successful offensive. The Greeks and ourselves are giving the Italians a very warm time and you must remember that the war has never been popular in Italy.

"The Italians are annoyed at the fact that there are Germans who are holding big posts in their country. That, however, is as much as they can do about it, while Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini are swearing friendship for each other. I am convinced that any Italian Government which was responsible for this foreign occupation of their country would lose its grip on the people.

HITLER'S ANXIETY "It does seem to me to be important to remember how anxious Herr Hitler is to find puppet rulers in his slave countries and it appears to me that Italy is moving towards a puppet state, for it is in this way that they can keep up the pretence that these slave states are in order.

"This is why Great Britain is confident of final victory. Both politically and economically Herr Hitler is in difficulties—economically because the various states under Nazi rule had to be bled white so that everything could be sent to Germany and the various occupied countries now cannot have any illusions about the economic side of Herr Hitler's new order. "Politically they are in a bad way as well, for you must know that Major Quisling, for instance, is so unpopular that he needs police protection at every meeting he attends.

UNREST GROWING "Mr. Bartlett referred to France next and said: "Although Marshal Petain will be more under control in Versailles than he has been in Vichy, there is no doubt that unrest in France is growing, while in Rumania it is becoming difficult for Herr Hitler to keep his puppet Government in power. Concluding, Mr. Bartlett said that no country which Germany had invaded was anxious to express its gratitude to the conquerors. They were all waiting for the day when the Nazis could be swept off the patch of history of the world.

PIG MEATS FOR BRITAIN

Evidence of the growing importance of the pig industry to Australia is the inclusion of 20,000 tons of baconer carcasses in the contract to provide meat for Britain during 1940-41.

It is believed that there will be no difficulty in meeting the demand for such carcasses, as the quantity was based on probable Australian production.

Australia is benefiting from the cutting off of supplies of pig meats from Denmark, formerly the main provider for Britain's markets.

Since the Germans have deprived Britain of Danish products, the Empire has been called on to make good the deficiency. The stimulation of Australia's pig industry is one of the results.

In the 1939-40 meat contract, the quantity of baconer carcasses was not specified, but it is understood, that the production response in this country was good. The fact that 20,000 tons have to be provided during the coming year is a promising indication of the possibilities of an important overseas market for another Australian primary industry.

CANADA'S OUTPUT Canada is the nearest source of supply to the United Kingdom. Consequently, Britain is drawing a large proportion of her pig meat requirements from that Dominion. Since the invasion of Denmark by Germany, Canada's bacon production has increased at least three-fold.

From the export point of view, Victoria and Queensland are ahead of New South Wales in the raising of baconer carcasses, at the same time, it has to be remembered that a large number of pigs from the northern districts of this State are raised to Brisbane, which is the natural geographical outlet, just as Melbourne is for fat lambs from the Riverina.

SIR JOHN LATHAM

PHILLIPS' MISSION TO U.S.

MUST BE CROWNED WITH IMMEDIATE SUCCESS

Sir Frederick Phillips, Third Secretary to the British Treasury, who is now in the United States, was to have seen Mr. Henry Morgenthau, Secretary to the U.S. Treasury, in Washington yesterday, states a London message.

Commenting on the visit the WASHINGTON STAR says: "It must be the earnest hope of the American nation that if Sir Frederick has come on a credits mission his efforts will be crowned with immediate and substantial success. Any other outcome will be a disservice to the United States and will gravely endanger the cause of democracy, liberty and international decency."

The only opposition to credits to Britain is generally from the viewpoint that credits should not be given until the present funds give out.

Most observers at present appear to overlook the fact that Britain's orders must soon overtake her dollar balances. The credits are really an assurance that when that happens orders will continue to be filled.

The present position is that America's capacity to produce is less than Britain's capacity to pay and as American production increases Britain's capacity to pay cannot similarly increase.

SOME CRITICISM

There is some Congressional criticism on the idea of granting credit to Britain. Senator Taft said "If we are going to do anything it is better to give Britain the money than to lend it; and if money is to be given it should be given to Canada first."

Mr. Ralph Ingersoll, writing in P.M., says: "I am not impressed by the claims from Berlin of the decisive results of mass bombing. I am convinced Britain can win. If the Fascist regimes do not crack within 12 months—and they will crack—we in America must give more financial assistance to the people who are fighting our war for us."

NIGHTFALL RAIDS

explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped.

Fires which broke out were soon distinguished but damage was done to church houses, shops and other buildings. A number of people were killed and a number injured.

FEW CASUALTIES

The attack on London was light and bombs fell at a few points only. These did some damage to houses and shops, and caused a few casualties some of which were fatal.

Elsewhere bombs fell on south-east England and East Anglia. Some damage was done but the number of casualties was very small.

Further reports of yesterday's attacks show at one place a few people were killed in addition to those injured.

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Although last night's weather was so bad that R.A.F. bombing operations were cancelled, aircraft of the Coastal Command raided targets in Holland and the submarine base at Lorient. The Air Ministry states that two aircraft are missing from routine patrols.

China incident and Australian limitation on the export of certain materials. Australians were looking forward to a resumption of trade on a more normal basis.

Though Great Britain has also important interests in the Far East, Australia was geographically more closely bound up with the Pacific area than Britain. Thus, it had been decided by the Australian Government that Australia should have separate diplomatic representation in two countries of the Pacific area, the United States of America and Japan.

At the Imperial Conference in 1926, it was agreed that the self-governing Dominions would appoint their own diplomatic representatives in any foreign country where, it was considered, the interests of the Dominion warranted such separate representation. Before the appointment of Mr. R. G. Casey as Minister to Washington and his own appointment as Minister to Tokyo it was not considered that the interests of Australia required such separate diplomatic representation.

In the present condition of world affairs it was thought desirable that Australia should have her own representatives in the two countries with both of which she was conducting a large trade.

Speaking of the war, Sir John said that Australia was devoting herself wholeheartedly to the prosecution of the war. Australian units, of the Army, Navy and Air Force, have already for a considerable time been operating in various theatres of war.

LARGE FORCE

In Australia, a large force has been built up for home defence. Aeroplanes, munitions and armaments are being manufactured on a large scale and one that is ever increasing. Not only are the Australians now ready to defend themselves, but they are in a position to supply other parts of the Empire with munitions, etc., and this is being done on a large scale.

"In Australia," Sir John said, "We have quite active party politics with a difference of opinion on many matters. But there is no difference of opinion whatever with respect to the war and the necessity of doing everything in our power to win it. All political parties are agreed that victory in the war is the first objective of the national effort. All parties are equally convinced that Great Britain will win the war."

Asked about the Australian Government's attitude to the question of Australian subjects of Chinese race who wish to return there after residence abroad, Sir John replied that if any Chinese who was an Australian subject would wish to return to his home, there was no Australian law to prevent his doing so.

Sir John Latham, who is a former Chief Justice of the High Court of Australia, arrived here by a British liner yesterday morning. He is accompanied by Mr. Patrick Shaw, Third Secretary of the Australian Legation, and by Mr. Clive Turnbull, representative of the "Australian Associated Press" who is covering the new Minister's arrival before establishing a bureau in Japan. Mr. Shaw is accompanied by his wife.

HIS CAREER

Sir John Greig Latham, G.C.M.G., P.C., K.C., M.A., LL.M., was born in Ascot Vale, Victoria, in 1877. He received his education at Scotch College, one of Melbourne's great Public Schools, and at the University of Melbourne. For some time he lectured at the University in Philosophy, Logic and Law, and in 1904, he was called to the Victorian Bar.

He served throughout the Great War in the Intelligence Branch of the Royal Australian Navy, performing special duties which included attendance at important war conferences in London with Mr. William Morris Hughes, then Prime Minister. When the Armistice was signed he was selected as a member of the staff of the Australian Delegation to the Peace Conference of 1919.

He represented the Australian Commonwealth at the League of Nations Assembly in 1926 and was the Australian delegate to the Disarmament and Reparations conference in 1932. In 1935, having retired from politics the previous year, he was appointed Chief Justice of the High Court of Australia.

General Italian Retreat Towards Elbasan

In spite of large fires started by the Italians, which have destroyed a part of the town, the Greeks have found immense quantities of war materials there.

It is learned that Argyrokastron from which the Italians have been withdrawing during the past 48 hours is also in flames.

Reports reaching London yesterday from the Greek front are eloquent of the mess into which Signor Mussolini has landed his country.

The Italian communiques have nothing more to say than that the "Greeks are continuing to push against our troops and we have made counter-attacks." The communiques judiciously refrain from mentioning the results of the Greek push.

In the central sector the Greeks assailed the Italians with heavy guns which they had captured. A report from Athens says that on the Premeti sector the Greeks have captured new villages and that the advance on this town is of great strategic importance.

Greek troops have now entered the town of Santi Quaranta while the fate of Argyrokastron appeared to be sealed. The wireless has gone dead and the Greeks have encircled the town. This is confirmed in the Greek communique which also mentions a further advance in the Pogradets sector where many more prisoners are said to have been taken.

More than 6,000 Italian troops are reported to have entered Yugoslavia. They crossed the frontier when the Greek advance started and some of them said they would rather surrender to the Yugoslavs than be killed in battle against the Greeks as they had no desire to fight.

A report from Istanbul stated that the Italian soldiers have had to be separated from Albanian troops because of constant quarrels.

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—It is now almost certain that the Greeks have captured Santi Quaranta although actual official confirmation is lacking. It is stated in authoritative circles here today.

This success is part of the general advance which has taken place along the entire Albanian front.

In the northern and Pindus sectors the advance has not been very extensive but this is due not to Italian opposition as to obvious difficulties encountered in moving forward over the mountainous and roadless country.

In the north the exact position of the Greek advance troops is uncertain but it appears as if the line runs from a point north-west of Pogradets more or less towards the village of Rajan which is about 10 kilometres west of Voskopolje.

Captures during the forward moves during the past few days include 15 Italian officers, 200 men, eight guns and 50 machine-guns. It is in this area that the stiffest fighting has taken place, mostly in snow.

MOST PRONOUNCED

The advance has been most pronounced on the Epirus front, including the capture of Tremeti, seven kilometres north-west of Petrali.

The capture of Santi Quaranta, if confirmed, is most important as it is the small port where earlier in the war the Italians were bringing in stores.

It stands on the junction of the coastal road from Vloana and the lateral road running across Albania to Koritza. This road is now not usable by the Italians who, in consequence of its loss, will have the greatest difficulty in moving their troops from one front to another.

NAZI WAR INDUSTRY WAS BASED ON PLAN PREPARED BY U.S. ARMY OFFICERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Informed officials say that Germany's war industry was patterned on the industrial mobilization plan worked out over a period of years by American army officers and engineers.

The war department has believed for sometime the German plan was a duplicate of the American programme, but their suspicions were not borne out until a confidential report was received recently.

The confidential report, detailing steps taken by Germany to adjust her peacetime industrial production to wartime needs, found the only changes made were in phrasing.

AMERICAN PLAN

Where the American plan is studied with such phrases as "this course of action seems indicated," "manufacturers are urged to do this," and "it appears procedure along this line is desirable." German chieftains struck these phrases from the plan, making the outline of procedure mandatory.

Violent Campaign Against Vichy Government

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—A violent campaign against the Vichy Government has been launched in occupied France, according to the Free French agency which quotes an article from the Parisien, which is described as purely a German organ, declaring the rising wave of disapproval of the Vichy Government "makes political collaboration more difficult."

The agency's comment is that the occupation authorities are realising an immense majority of French oppose collaboration and are trying to throw on the Government the responsibility for the particularly severe diplomatic check they have suffered.

Answer To Enemy Propaganda

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—"The spirit of Britain is unbreakable," declared Lord Willingdon, head of the British Trade Mission in South America speaking at a luncheon given in honour of the Mission by the British Chamber of Commerce.

Sir Granville Gibson, a member of the House of Commons, replying to enemy propaganda that Britain could not deliver the goods, pointed out that Britain and her Allies had 2,500 ships sailing the seas and 1,000,000 tons sailing between the United Kingdom and South America.

He also revealed the British Government has arranged the formation of a company to provide importers with facilities when necessary for carrying additional stocks of British goods.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).

Mrs. Elizabeth Deagan clerk in the United States Embassy in Paris, has been detained for questioning. It is understood that the State Department has been informed of the arrest and that Washington is making appropriate representation.

civilian needs, but, according to the report, Germany deleted that section entirely and built its industry on the basis of a giant industrial "commodity bank" from which the armed forces alone could draw.

An economic general staff, paralleling the military general staff, adapted the plans to German economy, crowding out civilian requirements and basing their course of action only on immediate needs to achieve victory, the informant said.

Using the American plan to go by, Germany approached the war munitions problem in exactly the same way as the United States. Procurement planning units were organized throughout the army, navy and air force, and planning bureaus were established at all industrial centers.

NO VOICE

However, when the time came to put these plans into effect, German manufacturers found their plants and equipment belonged to the government and that they had no voice in how it was to be used, the informant added.

Briefly, the American industrial mobilization plan was to make arrangements for effective use of material resources in war. Plans evolved must consider the problems of the army, navy, civilians, and industry, and must receive the approval of the President and Congress.

Hitler Trying To Make Up For Lost Time

tary criticism in such a way that the Parliament today seems to have transformed itself into a council of State which is resolved to win this war of freedom for others.

"This is democracy—this is responsible freedom of action."

"On one matter recently there has been some divergence of opinion and that is how best to win peace. Hitherto the attitude has been that we should not talk about peace until victory is won. Some think it incorrect to even think of peace when the war has not yet been won. Others say that if those countries who have been plundered by the Germans are told of a peace policy they will like the Nazis less and less."

"There is much to be said on both sides—criticism is the hallmark of democracy. Only yesterday by an overwhelming majority of 341 votes to four the House of Commons rejected the suggestion that Britain's Prime Minister should answer Hitler's speeches to find some ground for agreement and it is proof of the strength of democracy that such a debate should be held in war-time."

SHARED CONFIDENCE

Mr. Stead touched on the financial agreement reached between Great Britain and Turkey which he said was further proof that other countries shared Britain's belief and confidence. Soviet Russia had not acted upon Germany's suggestion that Russia should use pressure to make the Turkish Government forsake the British Commonwealth. Great Britain would now be able to buy Turkish agricultural goods and Britain would sell to Turkey not only heavy goods and machinery, but cotton goods and other commodities.

"This trade," said Mr. Stead, "will run into many millions of pounds and it will be based not on the barter system but on exchange between Turkish currency and the Pound Sterling. Great Britain regards the basis of this agreement as the difference between Hitler's new order in Europe and the new order which will be founded on victory by the forces of freedom."

ITALY'S POSITION

At the outset of his talk, Mr. Stead referred to the position of Italy and the resignation of Marshal Badoglio.

"Marshal Badoglio," he said, "has never been Mussolini's close friend and his resignation is perhaps a result of Hitler's fury at his partner's failure. There is no course of Hitler's fury, sane or insane, but there is ground for believing that Mussolini tried to steal a march on Hitler so that if he got a hold of strategic points in Greece he would have been better placed to get his share of the French booty but the valour of the Greeks upset his calculations."

"Now Mussolini's plan has thrown Hitler into a fury and in his fury he will cast about for some way in which he can give indirect help to Italy and improve Germany's own position."

"It is a mistake to under-rate Herr Hitler especially when he is most furious," declared Mr. Stead. "The language of the German Press generally gives a clue to what Dr. Goebbels feels that Hitler is thinking. (The German Press has now launched a violent attack on England and threatened that England will be made to pay for everything. This may be madness yet I fancy there may be a method in it.)"

FINAL OUTCOME

"If I put myself in Hitler's place I might reason as follows.—The final outcome of the Battle of Greece depends on the Battle of Britain. When I, Adolf Hitler, has beaten Britain, I can beat Greece in my own time. So I shall show the world how to destroy a superior enemy. I shall destroy his civil population and when weather conditions permit I shall let England know what invasion means. If I wait too long there may be trouble from the French, the Dutch and the Norwegians. So I will smash Britain. Let them look out for themselves."

"It is good reasoning," said Mr. Stead, "but it all comes a little too late."

There are apparently definite indications also, against the former Prime Minister, Mr. Daldy, General Gamelin, and two former Air Ministers, Mr. Pierre Cot and Guy Le Châtelier. The names of all these were linked in the Public Prosecutor's charge with that of M. Blum, and from that fact it is being inferred that all are being accused of the betrayal of a public trust.

Mr. Roosevelt Might Change Combat Zone Rule

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The possibility that President Roosevelt might change the combat zone rule to permit United States ships to enter European ports is suggested unofficially as a step towards the solution of Britain's shipping problem.

Despite the concern felt at recent British shipping losses and desire to extend further measures of assistance, it is indicated the Administration is reluctant at present to take steps such as converting British merchantmen across the Atlantic or allowing United States vessels to take supplies to Britain but there is the prospect of their later becoming important Administration or Congressional issues.

CATHOLIC NEWS & NOTES

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION: SWISS BISHOP'S VOW: PARIS CATHOLIC NEWSPAPER

Tomorrow is the feast of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary. This is in the Catholic Church one of the chief feasts of the Mother of Christ, but outside the Church the meaning of it is very commonly misunderstood. The Immaculate Conception has nothing to do with the virgin birth of Mary's Son, but, as the words imply, refers to her conception without the stain of Original Sin.

According to Catholic teaching, the effect of the sin of Adam and Eve was the loss to them and to their posterity of "grace," a quality which was a free gift of God and not belonging to their nature, by which they had a title-deed to heavenly happiness which was "super-natural," that is of a degree higher than anything which the human nature could possess.

As this quality is lost by mortal sin the privation of it is also spoken of as "sin." "Original Sin" does not imply any fault in the individual persons after Adam, but only in the race. The teaching on the Immaculate Conception is that Mary was never deprived of this gift of grace, but was from the first moment of her conception free from all stain of sin. This is her "Immaculate Conception."

SWISS BISHOP'S VOW

Mgr. Angelo Jelmini, Apostolic Administrator of the Canton of Tessin in Lugano, Switzerland, has informed his people of a vow he has taken to build a votive church for Blessed Nikolaus von der Flüe, if Switzerland is spared the ravages of war and can preserve her freedom and independence.

This announcement was made following the joint pastoral of

"LA CROIX"

The Paris Catholic newspaper LA CROIX is being published at Limoges for readers in the unoccupied zone of France. A Mass of Thanksgiving as homage to Almighty God for the protection bestowed on the staff of the newspaper was celebrated by Father Merklen, its editor-in-chief.

Father Merklen revealed that none of the members of the staff had been killed in the war. One was wounded, three are prisoners and two still are mobilized. Many of those present were on their knees the Military Cross of 1940.

A resolution to devote themselves entirely to the cause of the Church was renewed by all. "Nothing great, nothing lasting is done without prayer and sacrifice," Father Merklen said in his sermon. "France expects both from those who must contribute to the intellectual and spiritual resurrection of the country."

HUGE COMET WILL BE VISIBLE ON JAN. 15

AT THE CENTRAL OBSERVATORY IN MANILA and at the Philippine Baptist Mission in Capiz the search is going on for a kind of heavenly body that has stirred the imagination of man through the ages—specifically, for the newly discovered Cunningham Comet, reports the Manila Bulletin.

There has been little success at both places, but the search is one in which most anyone may take part because the comet is expected to be visible at this time of the year through ordinary field glasses and will be visible through the naked eye soon after sundown in February.

FIRST HONOUR

Honour of being the first man in the Philippines to see the comet will probably fall to Father Pablo Guzman of the astronomical division of the weather bureau. Reports of the new comet were received a few days ago by the Manila Observatory from its discoverer, Leland E. Cunningham of Harvard University, and since the exact location was not given, Father Guzman was assigned to track it down.

The comet is said to be located between the constellations Swan and Lyre in the northwestern part of the sky around 9 p.m. However, since this part of the heavens is very low on the horizon and therefore visible only a short time, Father Guzman was unable to locate the comet. Moving south, it will be in the northwestern part of the sky in February.

THRILLING SIGHT

Meanwhile, E. F. Rounds, director of the department of rural life of the Philippine Baptist Mission, and his wife had also been searching for the comet. Source of their information was their son's school paper, Junior Scholastic. Headed Comet Coming Our Way; No Cause For Alarm, the article follows:

"Astronomers promise us an unusually thrilling sight this winter."

"A newly discovered big comet is on its way toward earth. It will become visible about Nov. 15. The comet will reach its greatest brilliancy about Jan. 15. By then it will be in the southwestern sky, near the constellation of Sagittarius."

"It will be the brightest comet since the appearance of Halley's comet in 1910. Its head will shine more brightly than any star or planet. Its tail will sweep across a large section of sky."

CUNNINGHAM'S COMET

The new comet was discovered by Leland E. Cunningham of Harvard Observatory, and will probably be known as Cunningham's Comet.

"Mr. Cunningham discovered the comet when he examined some photographs of the heavens he had taken through a small 8-inch Ross telescope. He noticed a tiny, fuzzy image on one of the negatives. Immediately, Mr. Cunningham trained larger telescopes on the same field, and these showed unmistakably that the image was of a comet. It already showed a tail.

"The comet is now about 200,000,000 miles away. It is travelling towards us at a rate of 13 miles a second. As it comes closer it will pick up speed, until it is travelling about 30 miles a second. But don't worry; its nearest approach will be about 59,000,000 miles from earth.

400,000 MILE TAIL

"The tail of the comet is about 400,000 miles long, and still growing. It may be 100,000,000 miles in length by the time the comet comes closest to earth."

"A comet's tail is composed of luminous thin gases. In 1910 the earth passed through the tail of Halley's comet. The gases were so thin that they could not even be seen, as the earth passed through them. Most people never knew that they had gone through a comet's tail."

The Rounds family reported observing an unusually bright planet in the southeastern sky early in the morning. This would be the planet Venus, not a comet, according to Father Guzman. Admitting lack of expert knowledge about heavenly bodies, Rounds requested in a letter to the Bulletin that the proper authorities be asked for verification.

19-INCH TELESCOPE

Father Guzman said the comet is said to be visible through field glasses but added he has doubts that success would attend the efforts of anyone searching for "a little fellow with a small tail." He is using a 19-inch telescope.

A comet is a heavenly body generally irregular in form and often with a long nebular train or tail. It is, even now, regarded in extra scientific circles with superstitious dread, its appearance being taken to presage calamity. Comets have inspired a large amount of fiction, notable among the novels that have been written about them being H. G. Wells' "In the Days of the Comet."

MACAO RACES

is in such good condition at the moment that he must be conceded an excellent chance of winning here.

The Leopard should also do well, while the outsider is Matador, who ran quite a good race in his last outing at the Valley.

KAU TUNG HANDICAP (SECOND SECTION)

I believe this event should be fought out between Georgia and National Liberty and I am inclined to favor the latter pony.

King's Envoy is decidedly dangerous but seems to have lost some of his recent form which has prevented me from tipping him as the actual winner. However, one must remember that this dun always runs well in Macao and has been doing remarkably well of late in the Portuguese Colony.

Dow Jones should pay well if he can cause an upset here.

"CHUNG SHAN" HANDICAP

The big $1 Sweep will be drawn on this mile race and I forecast a win, which is long overdue, for Shanghai 4. Victory Life has to carry an additional 12 lbs. penalty for his last win, hence my preference for the old champion.

Meadow Eve should place and the outsider to follow is Courteney Hied.

KAU TUNG HANDICAP (THIRD SECTION)

It is about time Fernan Out and National Anthem did something of note and judging the classification and handicap, I think the former is the probable winner in this last event of the day.

The Spirit of St. Louis is very dangerous, too, and, as in Sports Venture, it started here instead of in the opening event.

Daily Output Down

BELGRADE, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—According to a despatch from Bucharest, Rumania's daily oil production has fallen from 1,700 to 1,400 waggon.

The Soviet delegation has arrived in Bucharest for the purpose of buying paper for Besarabia and Bukovina where there is scarcity.

MR. HENRY MORGENTHAU

MORGENTHAU AND CREDITS TO BRITAIN

SIR FREDERICK'S MISSION TO U.S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Mr. Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of Treasury, agreed that Britain is "a good risk" at the Press conference yesterday when referring to the statement by Mr. Jesse Jones, Federal Loans Administrator, on Wednesday.

Asked when Britain would require credits, Mr. Morgenthau replied: "If I knew the answer, it would not have been necessary for Sir Frederick Phillips, British Treasury official, to come over."

The Secretary of Treasury added that so far as he knew, Sir Frederick had come to the United States only to present actual information on British finances and resources available in the United States and not to request a loan.

DIRE PLIGHT OF DANISH FARMERS

Big Fall in Output of Milk, Butter

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The plight of Danish farmers since the Germans occupied their country is shown in a somewhat amazing broadcast over the Nazi-controlled Danish radio station. Here are some pertinent facts, as given by the radio station itself:—

Pigs are so under-nourished that their bones have become fragile and many pigs break their legs on the way to market.

The number of sows has been cut by nearly 50 per cent.

Horned-cattle stock has been reduced by 250,000.

Danish cows and heifers have seldom looked so scraggy.

Barns, which should be full of fodder for the winter, give the impression of April, not November.

ANIMALS UNDERFED
Farmers are faced with the problem of either selling their stock for slaughtering or trying to get through the winter by half under-feeding the animals.

There is only a small stock of super-phosphate for putting on the fields left.

Milk and butter produced in September was 25 per cent less than a year ago, and there has been a further fall since then.

GOODS BRITAIN REQUIRES

WELLINGTON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Commenting on the Minister of Food, Lord Woolton's, announcement of the elimination of all imported fruit, except oranges, Mr. Walter Nash, Minister of Finance and Customs, said: "We shall use all space available in ships trading between New Zealand and Britain, to ensure the dispatch of goods that Britain most requires."

It is added that he has not yet been advised of the British decision, but if any shipping space left were usable for fruit, he will endeavour to arrange to send it.

CHINA'S STEEL PRODUCTION

BIG INCREASE IN OUTPUT RECORDED

CHUNGKING, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—China will be practically self-sufficient in steel by the end of next year and able to cover most of her military and industrial needs.

This announcement was made yesterday by an official of the Ministry of Economic Affairs after a conference of 34 Chinese iron and steel experts.

This year metal production has been 30 per cent above that of last year.

Within next six months it is claimed that fourth-fifths of new furnaces will be at work reaching the maximum output at the end of 1941.

Australia To Control All Coastal Shipping

CANBERRA, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The Australian Government is assuming control of all Australian coastal shipping, according to a statement by Sir Earle Page, Minister of Commerce, yesterday.

The object is to enable the accumulation of general cargo at Australian ports to be handled expeditiously.

This action is taken in accordance with the Defence Regulations and the Government will control the use to which ships are put, arrange for hiring vessels and determine the order of priority of specified goods.

Ships may also be requisitioned in order to ensure they are operated in the best interests of trade.

King George tries out a Bren gun during a recent Sunday tour of a small arms factory.

TRAVEL BY AIR FROM FAR EAST EUROPE STILL POSSIBLE DESPITE THE WAR

Despite the European war, it is still possible to fly from the Orient or the Antipodes to various European points, including London, H. B. "Buck" Longfellow, foreign traffic manager of United Air Lines, said recently at the Manila Hotel, reports the Manila Bulletin.

Longfellow, who used to be with the Shanghai office of the old Dollar Line, arrived here last Sunday from Hongkong. He has been travelling all over the world for almost a year, studying air transport movements.

ROUTE TO BE FOLLOWED
The route followed by those wishing to fly from the Orient to European points, Longfellow stated, is via Pan American's trans-pacific clipper service to San Francisco. United Air Lines' overnight sleeper planes link San Francisco to New York, where a transfer is made at the same airport to PAA's transatlantic clipper to Lisbon, Portugal. British Overseas Airways connects Lisbon to London with a six-day week service.

The flight from Hongkong or Singapore to London requires nine days, from Manila to London, eight days and from Sydney to London and European points, nine days.

AIR MAIL INCREASE
In addition to the substantial number of transpacific passengers who board United planes at San Francisco or Los Angeles for overnight flight to Chicago or New York, Longfellow said, there is an increasing volume of transpacific air mail and express being transferred at California for the cross-country flight over the United States.

Air transportation in the United States in 1940 showed a gain of 55 per cent over 1939, approximately 3,200,000 passengers having been flown so far this year by the various air lines.

ROLE OF AIR LINES
A cable received by the United Air Lines' representative from the general offices in Chicago showed that the increase in air travel in the United States has been accelerated by the nation's preparedness programme.

Further evidence of the role the air lines are playing in the national defense, it is pointed out, is the placing of orders for $30,000,000 worth of new airplanes by the air lines with United, which operates from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., to New York.

MARINERS WARNED

The following notice to mariners was issued by the Harbour Office authorities yesterday:—

Notice is hereby given that on or about Dec. 6, and without further notice, South-east Spit Light-buoy will be moved to a position bearing 175 deg., distant 9.350 metres (5.05 sea miles) from Pien-tan-sha Beacon, its other characteristics remaining unchanged.

S.S. Fatshan Back In Colony

The s.s. Fatshan arrived from Canton on Thursday evening with a total of 337 passengers, out of which 332 were Chinese.

There is as yet no definite news as to when she will make her second trip to Canton.

The Shihagano Maru, which arrived yesterday with between 300 and 400 passengers, is sailing again for Canton at 8 a.m. today.

Rice Prices Control In Chungking

DR. KUNG CALLS MEETING OF BANKERS

CHUNGKING, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The control of rice and commodity prices continues to occupy the attention of the Chungking Government authorities, reports state. Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Finance summoned a meeting of Chinese bankers and economic experts to study the matter yesterday. Another meeting was also held by the South-West Industrial Society under its chairman, Wu Ting-chang, Governor of Kweichow province.

The Ministry of Economic Affairs and the newly-created Ministry of Social Affairs are jointly organising an office for the special purpose of investigating the question of hoarding and General Teng Hsi-hou, Pacification Commissioner for Szechuen and Sinking provinces, is urging landowners to cease hoarding rice.

LATEST ORDER

Other official proclamations issued today imposed restrictions on holding of meetings and political gatherings. The latest order issued by the Supreme National Defence Council is to be strictly enforced by the Municipal Garrison authorities.

A petition must first be submitted to the local Police authorities, giving the time and place of the meeting and the names of the persons sponsoring the meeting as well as the names of speakers, their addresses and vocations. Short summary speeches and number of participants must also be submitted.

£18 MILLION FOR WAR EFFORT

From the beginning of the war contributions from the Colonial Government, Dominions and native bodies to Britain's war efforts have amounted to £18,000,000.

This is not confined to the British Empire. The Dutch East Indies sent 23 Spitfires money for the 24th.

This does not include the 40 Spitfires and 13 bombers contributed under the Queen Wilhelmina Fund.

WINTER CLOTHES FOR INTERNEES

The Director of Medical Services desires to acknowledge with grateful thanks the gift of N.C.$10,000 for winter jackets for the 726 Chinese soldiers interned in Argyll camp.

This gift comes from the National Relief Commission, through the good offices of Dr. Shu Shi-yung, Vice-Chairman of the National Relief Commission and Commissioner To Yung.

PO LEUNG KUK OVERCROWDING IS RELIEVED

In furtherance of the Government policy to relieve the overcrowding at the Po Leung Kuk, a further 94 children were transferred from the Kuk to the care of the Medical Authorities at Ma Tau Chung Government Refugee Camp on Tuesday and another batch of 45 to King's Park Government Refugee Camp on Wednesday.

The children appear to be settling down happily in their new quarters where their movements are rather less restricted.

INSIDE STORIES OF NAZI FACTORIES

This is the inside story of the three biggest German aircraft factories—Junkers in Dessau, Heinkel in Mecklenburg, and Messerschmitt in Augsburg, writes Kurt Doberer in Forward, (Glasgow).

It shows how the Nazis tried to increase the output of aircraft by the mere lengthening of working hours. This method led to a fiasco. After the breakdown of this all too simple method of multiplying the aircraft output, the Nazis worked hard to overcome the difficulties by organizing a clockwork-like shift system.

After the beginning of the war, the Nazis had increased the working hours in the Junkers factory to twelve and thirteen hours a day. The workers could not protest, openly, but the production began to fall behind in such a degree that the Nazi authorities feared that they would lose the whole control of the aeroplane output.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE

The passive resistance of the workers is clearly shown by the fact that, in spite of the lengthening of the working day by two or three hours, the total output of the factory fell by twenty per cent in relation to the production on the past normal working day.

In this dangerous situation the whole scheme was radically changed. The workers of the factory were divided into four shifts, each working six hours a day instead of the thirteen hours as before.

As there were not sufficient men for the four shifts of workers in this twenty-four hour working system, the scheme was again complicated in the sense that most of the workers had to make up overtime.

To get control over the whole private life of the workers, 9,000 men of the Junkers works are lodged in barracks like soldiers. Here their living is like that of soldiers.

After their work in the Junkers factory, in their leisure hours they are fed with propaganda. They are told that the Junkers works are safe from any air attack since the dangerous aerodromes of Czechoslovakia are in the hands of Germany.

The workers are told that in the case of a victory for the Allies, the Junkers works would be destroyed like the German armament factories in 1919. Then the propaganda speaker describes to the men the life of the unemployed. There would be no hope of any work in their lifetime.

GIFTS OF CIGARETTES

To back these stories by means of a more material way, the workers in the barracks get gifts, parcels with cigarettes, like the army, and, in fact, collected for the army. The Nazis pull all the strings to lead the important group of specialized workers into a fool's paradise.

In spite of the fact that Rostock, which is the seat of the biggest factory of the Heinkel works, is practically in the same bombing range from England as Dessau, there was not so much boasting about air security as in the Junkers works.

Instead, the Heinkel works tried to decentralize their works in the widest extent. They now use more and more small factories scattered in little country towns and villages of Mecklenburg, more remote from the coast of the Baltic Sea.

Such factories are now situated at the following places:

Workers
Waren	5,000 to 7,000
Bad-Kleinen	3,000 to 4,000
Karow-Waren	2,500 to 3,500
Hornsdorf-Wismar	2,000 to 3,000
Parchim	?
Suckow	?
Pylitz	?

This development brings the bulk of the Heinkel works nearer and nearer the vicinity of Berlin. The Heinkel factory in Oranienburg, north of Berlin, puts out a third of the whole Heinkel production.

PRODUCTION DECLINES
In the two Heinkel factories, especially north of Berlin, in Oranienburg and Marienhe, appeared the same dangerous decline of production as already reported from the Junkers works. Here in the Heinkel works the Nazis fought this danger by giving large-scale leave.

Augsburg, the seat of the Messerschmitt works—Bayerische Flugzeugwerke—is an old industrial town. Therefore the quick expanding aircraft factory could always get enough craftsmen out of the population of the town itself.

There is no necessity to collect skilled workers on a great scale from all over the country, and to

FEELINGS OF PEOPLE NOW UNDER NAZI RULE

Thousands Want To Go Home

While the House of Commons was debating the peace movement amendment the Czech Foreign Minister in London, M. Masaryk, gave an indication of the feelings of the people who have fallen under Nazi rule. "I want to go home," he said.

There are hundreds of thousands of Europeans, including Germans, who are waiting for the overthrow of what Major C. R. Attlee called 'this abominable dictatorship' so that they can go home. They want the German troops and the German Gestapo to go home too.

MORE APPARENT

News reaching London today shows that this wish on their part is becoming more and more apparent and that the Germans have great difficulties in maintaining even a semblance of order in the countries they have occupied.

Reports from Oslo state that the Norwegians are most optimistic of prospects of the Germans going home soon. The position of Major Quisling is considerably weakened and Nazi storm troops are being beaten up.

One report says that civil war between Norwegian Nazis and the vast democratic section of the nation may break out at any moment.

As a matter of fact it has broken out already among the children. One Nazi newspaper bitterly complains that Nazi-minded children are being subjected to molestation.

GESTAPO TERROR

Similar conditions prevail in France and Holland and even in Poland and Czechoslovakia where the Gestapo terror continues ceaselessly.

Even in Austria the spirit of insubordination to the present position is growing and cabaret artists now dare to make jokes at the expense of the regime.

At a recent football match between Austrian and German teams the Germans were consistently booed and hissed and the motor coach that was to take them home was set on fire.

BOMB IN CASTLE GROUNDS

A bomb fell in the grounds of Windsor Castle during a recent raid, states a London message. The Royal Lodge received some damage but there were no casualties. Bombs fell on the town of Windsor too but little damage was sustained.

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—Photos of the destruction to Italian warships at Taranto were dropped by R.A.F. aircraft when they raided Turin last night. The Italians are now able to see the indisputable havoc caused by British aircraft to their battleships.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—The MacKay Radio stated that it received an S. O. S. from the British steamer Newchwang, owned by the China Navigation Company, Limited, saying that she required immediate assistance and giving her position as 57.53 north and 23.56 west.

LONDON, Dec. 6 (Reuter).—THE TIMES, in a leading article on the overwhelming rejection of the Independent Labour Party "peace" motion in the House of Commons yesterday says that to eliminate "Tory Hitler and Signor Mussolini" is both the first war objective and the first condition of peace.

remove them against their will to the Messerschmitt factory.

This practice used by the expansion of many of the German armaments factories proved to be the obstacle to real trustworthy workmanship. The absence of this method is the chief reason why the Messerschmitt aeroplanes are built under good workmanship.
